

A guide to transferring benefits out of the EAPF

About this guide

The Environment Agency Pension Fund (EAPF) is part of the Local Government Pension Scheme (LGPS) and is governed by the LGPS regulations.

This guide is for all employees who have left the LGPS, have taken up a new pension arrangement and wish to consider transferring their EAPF benefits into the new arrangement.

Introduction

If you leave the LGPS without becoming entitled to immediate payment of your pension, your options will be to:

- Keep your benefits in the EAPF (known as deferred benefits)
- Transfer your benefits to a registered (i.e. approved by HMRC) pension scheme

If you elect to transfer, the EAPF will pay a cash equivalent transfer value (CETV) to your new pension provider. Payment of a CETV will discharge all EAPF pension liabilities and no further benefits will be due to you from the EAPF.

If you decide to keep your benefits deferred, or you do not immediately enter into a new pension arrangement, you will have a right to a CETV up to 1 year before your normal pension age<sup>1</sup>. You cannot transfer your pension once payment has commenced.

Can I transfer my benefits out of the LGPS?

You can transfer your benefits to a registered pension scheme depending on your new scheme's rules and whether they are able to accept it.

Other schemes that you may consider transferring your deferred LGPS benefits to include:

- Another LGPS fund in England and Wales
- Another public sector scheme (including the LGPS in Scotland, Northern Ireland or Isle of Man)
- A non-LGPS scheme such as an occupational scheme, a stakeholder scheme or a personal pension
- An overseas scheme (subject to HMRC approval)

These options are dealt with in more detail in the following pages.

If you are considering transferring your benefits to another scheme, you should always seek independent financial advice. Remember, your EAPF pension:

- Increases each year in line with the cost of living
- Can be taken voluntarily from age 55, if contributing membership ceased on/after 1 April 2014
- Can be taken voluntarily from age 60, if contributing membership ceased before 1 April 2014 (though it can be taken from age 55 with your former employer's consent)
- Can be taken at any age on the grounds of ill health
- May provide a death grant for your next of kin or nominated beneficiary if you die before age 75<sup>2</sup>
- May provide dependant's pensions for your spouse, civil partner, cohabiting partner and eligible children

<sup>1</sup> Depending on when you left the EAPF, your normal pension age (NPA) may be as early as age 60 or as late as your state pension age/age 65

<sup>2</sup> Entitlement may vary depending on the date you ceased contributing membership

Another LGPS fund in England and Wales

If you take up employment which offers you further membership of the LGPS in England and Wales, you will generally have an option to transfer your deferred EAPF benefits into your new LGPS fund. This should normally be completed within 12 months of the date you rejoin the LGPS but your new employer may be able to extend this.

In some circumstances, transfers of previous LGPS rights will be carried out automatically, while the benefits purchased by the transfer will depend on when you left the scheme, and whether you had a continuous break of more than 5 years between leaving one public sector scheme and joining another (referred to as a 'disqualifying break'); please see 'Table 1' on page 4 of this guide for further information.

Please note that, if you opted out of the EAPF on/after 11 April 2015 to create a deferred benefit, it cannot be combined with any future LGPS membership (even if you later rejoin the LGPS in a new employment/LGPS fund).

Another public sector scheme (including but not limited to the LGPS in Scotland or Northern Ireland)

Most public sector pension schemes, including the LGPS, are members of a transfer 'club', which ensures that you will get equivalent pension benefits in another 'club' scheme if you transfer your benefits within 12 months of the date you first join your new Scheme (a 'club transfer').

If you take up employment with another public sector scheme, other than the LGPS in England and Wales, then the transfer will give you an equivalent benefit in your new public sector scheme as you previously had in the EAPF, providing the following criteria is met:

- The period between ceasing contributing membership of the EAPF and joining another public sector scheme is 5 years or less; and
- The election to transfer is received by the new public sector scheme within 12 months of you first becoming a contributing member of the scheme in your new employment.

If the club transfer criteria listed above is met, then the transfer will give you an equivalent benefit in your new public sector scheme. This does not necessarily mean that you will be credited with the same amount of membership/pension, as differences in retirement ages and scheme design could reduce or increase the amount of membership/pension which is credited to you following a transfer.

Although a club transfer may often be beneficial to you, this is not always the case especially if you have taken a large pay cut on joining your new scheme and you do not expect to make up the difference before retirement. In deciding whether to transfer, you may also wish to compare the dates on which you can voluntarily draw the pension from each scheme and how any dependant's benefits would be calculated following your death as these may be different.

If you do decide to transfer your benefits, your pre 1 April 2014 membership will be linked to your final pay when you leave your new employment and so any future promotions or pay increases could significantly increase the value of all of your benefits.

If you wish to investigate the transfer of your EAPF pension to another public sector scheme, you should contact your new pension provider. If you do not elect the transfer within 12 months of becoming eligible to join your new employer's scheme, the 'club' rules will not apply.

Any other pension scheme

Some occupational schemes are 'defined benefit' schemes and your EAPF benefits will purchase additional membership/pension in these schemes, depending on the new scheme rules. However, the majority of other schemes are called 'defined contribution' or 'money purchase' schemes and are dependent on the amount of money you have saved, which is generally used to buy an annuity on retirement, subject to the new scheme rules.

If you have another pension scheme which is able to accept the transfer such as a stakeholder or personal pension, the CETV will be paid to your new fund and will be invested alongside your other savings. When you retire, your pension may be paid as an annuity or even as a cash lump sum, subject to your new scheme rules.

Please note that, depending on the capital value of your EAPF benefits, restrictions on transferring out of the EAPF may apply; please see the section on 'Freedom & Choice' for more details.

An overseas scheme

You may be able to transfer your pension to an overseas scheme as long as it is a Qualified Registered Overseas Pension Scheme (QROPS) which has been approved by HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC). A list of some of the QROPS schemes can be found at www.hmrc.gov.uk/pensionschemes/qrops-list.htm

'Freedom & Choice' from 6 April 2015

Some significant changes in the pensions sector became effective from 6 April 2015, namely that a person over age 55 may draw their entire pension benefits from a money-purchase arrangement as a cash lump sum. This is not possible under the LGPS (a defined benefit arrangement), so some members over age 55 may be thinking of:

- Transferring their EAPF benefits to a money-purchase arrangement (such as a personal pension scheme); and
- Following completion of the transfer, drawing the whole of their transferred EAPF benefits as a cash lump sum

Although the above action is permitted, giving up your right to annual pension in exchange for a cash lump sum is an extreme measure; if the capital value of your EAPF benefits is more than £30,000, you are even required by law to seek independent financial advice from a registered independent financial advisor before the transfer can proceed. Please see the section 'Can I transfer out of the LGPS' for a detailed list of the things you would be giving up if you chose to transfer out of the LGPS.

Unfortunately, the 'Freedom & Choice' changes have led to an increase in the number of pension 'scams' that are aimed at people approaching retirement; more details on this can be found in the section 'Pension Liberation Schemes & other scams' below.

Pension Liberation Schemes & other scams

There are organisations that offer to convert the entire pension benefits of under 55s into a cash lump sum before retirement. These offers may say that it is possible using a legal loophole, but this is not true, it is against the law (though members aged 55 and over may do so, providing they first transfer to a money-purchase pension scheme – please see the section on ‘Freedom & Choice’ above) – criminals can only do it by tricking your employer’s scheme into thinking it is transferring your money into another genuine pension scheme. These schemes often take a large percentage of the transfer value in commission and then HMRC will ask you to pay large tax charges which will leave you with very little money and no pension on retirement.

In addition, scammers are also targeting pension savers with promises of one-off investments, pension loans or upfront cash. Most of these are bogus. Pension scam models are also changing. Many scammers are directing members to transfer into single member occupational schemes in an attempt to escape scrutiny.

Additional Voluntary Contributions (AVCs)

If you have paid into the in-house AVC fund, your options prior to 6 April 2015 depended on what you decided to do with your main scheme benefits. However, since 6 April 2015, your in-house AVC may be transferred out to another pension scheme, even if you decide to keep your main scheme benefits within the EAPF. If you transfer your in-house AVC to any other scheme, your investment options will depend on your new scheme rules.

Please note that the time restrictions for transferring, which are outlined in the ‘Introduction’, do not apply to in-house AVCs (i.e. an in-house AVC may be transferred to another pension scheme, even if the member is within 12 months of their normal pension age).

How do I transfer my benefits?

If you wish to investigate a transfer of your pension to another fund, you should contact your new pension provider who will give you a full quotation detailing what your EAPF benefits will buy you, together with further information on which you will be able to base your decision. You should not make a final decision on the transfer until you have read and understood this information. You should consider taking advice if you are unsure about whether a transfer is in your best interest.

Who can help me?

We are unable to offer you any advice to help you in making your decision on whether to transfer but we will provide you with information on which to base your decision including a full quotation. You can get advice from an independent financial adviser (IFA) and details of how to contact a local adviser can be found at www.unbiased.co.uk

You can also ask The Pensions Advisory Service (TPAS) for help. They are an independent non-profit organisation that provides free information, advice and guidance on the whole spectrum of pensions, including state, company, personal and stakeholder schemes. Their contact details are available on their website at www.pensionsadvisoryservice.org.uk

Overview and things to consider

Table 1 provides an overview of the rules on transferring from the EAPF to another LGPS fund, as well as the benefits purchased by such a transfer.

Table 2 provides a number of things to consider when making a decision as to whether to combine previous EAPF rights or transfer from the EAPF into another LGPS fund.

Table 1 - Overview of the transfer rules and the benefits purchased by a transfer out of the EAPF into another LGPS fund in England & Wales

Previous pension rights	Between leaving the EAPF and rejoining the LGPS, do you have a break of 5+ years when you weren't contributing to a public sector scheme?	Are benefits transferred automatically?	Benefits purchased by transfer
LGPS membership – contributing membership ceased on/after 1 April 2014	Yes	Yes – though if you don't want the transfer to proceed, you must elect within 12 months of joining	Fixed amount of pension – revalued each year by Treasury Orders
	No	Yes – though if you don't want the transfer to proceed, you must elect within 12 months of joining	Pre 1 April 2014 membership - day-for-day membership, linked to final pay on leaving.  Post 31 March 2014 membership - fixed amount of pension, revalued each year by Treasury Orders
LGPS membership – contributing membership ceased before 1 April 2014	Yes	No – you must elect for the transfer to proceed	Fixed amount of pension – revalued each year by Treasury Orders
	No	No – you must elect for the transfer to proceed	You may choose between: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Day-for-day membership, linked to final pay on leaving; or</li> <li>• Fixed amount of pension, revalued each year by Treasury Orders</li> </ul>

Table 2 - Some things to consider before deciding to combine previous EAPF pension rights with another LGPS fund in England and Wales.

Not combining - leaving benefits deferred in your previous fund	Combining with your new membership
Your pre 1 April 2014 deferred benefits (including dependant's benefits payable on your death) will have been calculated based on your final pay on leaving the EAPF, which is increased in line with the cost of living.	Pre 1 April 2014 benefits (including dependant's benefits payable on your death) will be calculated using the final pay when you leave your new employment.
You will retain any '85 year rule'<sup>3</sup> protection you have on your deferred pension. All/part of your benefits within the EAPF may be reduced if taken before your Normal Pension age (NPA – which is the later of age 65 or state pension age).	If you have 85 year rule protections, the protections are extended to cover benefits from your new employment. However, if there is a break between your periods of membership, some of the notional membership will be lost and you may suffer greater reductions to the benefits from your deferred membership, than if you had decided not to combine, if you retire prior to NPA.
If you have to retire due to ill health, you will need to apply to your employer (via Capita) and to your former LGPS employer for payment of your current and deferred pensions respectively. This may mean that you have to undergo separate medical assessments for each employer.	You will only have to apply to your new fund for payment of your combined benefits on the grounds of ill health.
If you die in service, your beneficiaries will receive a death grant based on the greater of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• 3 or 5 x Your deferred pension<sup>4</sup>; or</li> <li>• 3 x pensionable pay from your new employment.</li> </ul>	If you die in service, your beneficiaries will receive a death grant of 3 x your pensionable pay with your employer.

<sup>3</sup> The '85 year rule' applies to members who have LGPS membership which was built up before 1 October 2006 (either continuous membership or membership which has been combined with the member's current contributing membership) and whose total membership in whole years plus their age in whole years adds up to 85 before they reach the age of 65. If these members take payment of their pension before age 65 they will have smaller reductions to all or some of their benefits.

<sup>4</sup> The multiplier varies depending on your date of leaving

If you are retired from your new LGPS employment due to redundancy or in the interests of efficiency of the service, your new LGPS benefits will be paid immediately and unreduced, providing you are aged 55 or over. However, you will not be able to voluntarily take payment of your EAPF deferred benefits until you reach: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Left EAPF before 1 April 2014 - age 60 at the earliest (unless your former employer consents on or after age 55).</li><li>• Left EAPF on/after 1 April 2014 – age 55 at the earliest.</li></ul> Please note that your deferred benefits may be subject to actuarial reductions if paid before your normal pension age.	All of your combined benefits will be payable immediately and unreduced if you are retired (age 55+) due to redundancy or in the interests of efficiency of the service.
